Dear Sam,

You are one and only love. Even this is written after our graduation, I see that we have grown together more and more. Tomorrow I hope to be in the army; three weeks probably to be split up. We must be going in though we are going to be one and then, even though it seems as though we get those gold, then silver bars on your shoulders. It seems that graduation might not be the end. May you get those gold, then silver bars on your shoulders. It seems that graduation might not be the end. May you get those gold, then silver bars on your shoulders. It seems that graduation might not be the end.

Well, so long for now. I'll write you a letter as soon as I get settled. Remember me to your folks and Jim. I'll be thinking of you all the time. Good night.

Yours,

Myself.

P.S. Then after graduation, there are just a few things I'd like to do. I can just imagine sitting in the sun with a long, cool drink in my hand, and you sitting next to me. Then we could go for a swim, and then lie in the sun and dry off. Then we could go for a swim, and then lie in the sun and dry off. Then we could go for a swim; I didn't forget your bathing suit. Then after graduation, there are just a few things I'd like to do. I can just imagine sitting in the sun with a long, cool drink in my hand, and you sitting next to me we were still friends after that. Remember the time I had scarlet fever, and you brought me those dumb "Astounding" stories you were soooo afraid to come in the room. God, you were crazy then. Now, you only read comic magazines.

I think I have written enough in this FORUM. Best of luck (even though thousand of others ~~and~~ wished you the same.)

I close

FOREWORD

In these times of world turmoil and chaos the Youth of America is entrusted with the huge task of preparing, physically as well as morally, for the problems of the future. Realizing this, the students of Senn are enthusiastically responding to the call for participation in athletics, undoubtedly the best way to keep the body fit. One need only view the list of fine honors and awards won this past year to prove that they are anxious to prepare themselves to help their country. This eager spirit is shown throughout the 1942 Forum.

Health to enjoy the blessings
Sent from Heaven;
A mind unclouded, strong,
A cheerful heart;
A wise content;
An honored age;
And song.

Albert Shaffner

Dedication

In bringing to light throughout this book the outstanding athletic achievements of Senn students, it is necessary to give due credit to the efficiency and accuracy of the Senn Physical Education Department. At the head of this organization is Mr. Shaffner, one of the finest coaches in the city, and Senn is fortunate in having him on the faculty. His keen understanding of boys, his ability to develop stellar performers, and his alert method of running the physical education department have been contributing factors to the success of Senn sports. So we, the 1942 Forum Staff, are proud to dedicate this book to Coach Albert F. Shaffner.

SENIOR CLASS, JANUARY, 1942

Well, you can say the Class of January, 1942, was small, but you certainly can't say it wasn't enthusiastic!

The semester started off with a bang with class elections. Competition was fast and furious and only two contenders for office were elected on the first ballot. Vernon McHugh raked in the most votes for the vice-president's job and Marion Drapekin won out as Alumni Chairman. The second ballot helped five other people into office, Albert Pounian, president; Jean Brody, secretary; Bob Wangersheim, treasurer; Peggy Eagle, luncheon chairman; and Bill Brown, prom chairman.

The two events that stand out most clearly in every graduate's mind other than the actual graduation exercises are the super-sharp luncheon and prom. The prom was held in the Grand Ballroom of the Chicago Towers Club on the night of Friday, January 23. Music was rendered by Johnny Marlowe's orchestra and everyone agreed it was the best prom yet. The bids were green and marblized plastic with the Senn seal on the front.

On the day of graduation, January 29, the Senior Luncheon was held in the Marine dining room of the Edgewater Beach Hotel. Everyone was dressed up in his Sunday best and all the Class sure had a swell time. A scrumptious meal was served, followed by dancing to the music of Barney Richards and his orchestra. After Sigma Sigma Mu pins were awarded to graduating marshal officers, Certificates of Merit were presented to ROTC officers and to the outstanding athletes. A book was given President Al Pounian in recognition of his services to the class.

Graduation left all members of the class with lumps in their throats but with those hardearned diplomas in their hands and a heart full of memories of a wonderful 4A semester.

SENIOR CLASS, JUNE, 1942

The June Class of 1942 will have many pleasant high school memories that may long be treasured. It is hard to say as we reminisce in future years just what memory will receive the title, favorite, there are so many.

The first big event that plunged the Sallies and Sammies of four years back into their last semester was the class election, whose photographic finish caused many suspense packed days. Those rising to the top victoriously to lead the 606 grads were President Donald Alvarez, Vice-President William Church, Secretary Barbara Stanton, Treasurer Jack Scanlan, Prom Chairman Sherman Ascher, Luncheon Chairman Jeanne Andersen, Alumni Chairman David Langerman, and Marshal Court Judge Richard Rance.

Even though the years through which we shall glide back will be crowded with other visions it will be hard for anyone to forget the Bulldogs, our gridiron heroes, who like ancient Greek athletes were acclaimed champions and victors.

Pictures that are certain to flash back are: the night of the Radio Show in Senn Hall, the three delightful one-act plays produced by the Players and Workers, the Youth Week Convention at the Morrison Hotel at which 10 leading seniors represented Senn, and the pride with which we pointed to the League of Nations Test and Scholarship examination winners.

On starry June nights our thoughts will return to the Senior Prom and we shall smile as we think of tripping on our dress or suffering in a stiff shirt front, but all in all having the time of our life, the thrilling occasion which we had been planning since our freshman semester. The Grand Ballroom of the Medinah Club of Chicago was the place and June 19 the date. As graduation week rushed us along there came the Luncheon at the Edgewater Beach Hotel and the same night, June 25, the climax, when we received our diplomas with a glad expectant eye to the future and a slightly heavy heart with its loss of the past.

The friendship of Principal Davidson, Senior Adviser, Dr. Zimmerman, and teachers, the companionship of fellow students, and our years at Senn will always be vivid in our memories.

ALL SCHOOL COUNCIL—FALL

With a bang the Fall All School Council burst into a semester of vim and enthusiasm just as soon as the results of the class elections were announced in October.

Al Pounian, 4A President, led the Council of 26 members, composed of the class officers, three judges and three chairmen, into a very worthwhile term. The other vigorous boys leading their classes were: 4B, Bill Dahlquist; Junior, Harold Wilson; Sophomore, Don Bahusky; and Freshman, William Jackson.

me → Hal Wilson

The other 4A officers, Vernon McHugh, vice-president; Jean Brody, secretary; Bob Wangersheim, treasurer; Peggy Eagle, luncheon chairman; Bill Brown, prom chairman; and Marion Drapekin, alumni chairman, did much in accomplishing the undertakings of this group.

The wonderful idea of conducting a collection at Senn, the proceeds to go to three deserving organizations, the Red Cross, Senn Milk Fund, and the School Children's Aid Society, was fostered in the Council.

The total sum collected in the various division rooms during October and November was $1,375.85, of which $60 went to the Junior Red Cross, and the rest was divided between the Milk Fund and the Children's Aid Society.

The Christmas before last, the old tradition of distributing baskets to the needy at this time was abolished in favor of a Milk Fund, by which milk would be bought for deserving families throughout the year.

Early in the fall Principal Davidson conducted a Safety Campaign to encourage safe driving among the students and to reduce the number of automobile accidents. The Fall Council whole-heartedly supported this campaign, which was very necessary.

At the end of the semester, the Fall All School Council concluded its work with the feeling that the group had spent a very worthwhile semester. They agree that the credit was largely due Principal Davidson, for without his help and attendance at the Council meetings the projects accomplished would not have been the great success they were.

In Memoriam

JEANETTE LATHROP

And then I think of one who in her youthful beauty died,
The fair meek blossom that grew up and faded by my side.
In the cold moist earth we laid her, when the forest cast her leaf,
And we wept that one so lovely should have a life so brief:
Yet not unmeet it was that one, like that young friend of ours,
So gentle and so beautiful, should perish with the flowers.

—William Cullen Bryant

Jeanette Lathrop, Freshman student, died the night of January 13 as the result of an accident which occurred earlier in the day. She was hit by an automobile after alighting from a bus at Ridge and Ardmore Avenues on her way to school.

Jeanette's many friends will miss her smiling face and likeable manner by which everyone knew her. Her teachers have expressed sentiments very favorable to her.

Jeanette was a lovely girl, gentle of manner, willing and cooperative in every way, one who I am sure will not soon be forgotten at Senn. We shall always think of her as having sacrificed her life, just barely begun.

ALL SCHOOL COUNCIL—SPRING

Momentous problems faced this war-time council of the 1942 Spring semester. The president of the 4A class is automatically president of the All School Council and in this office Don Alvarez with Principal Davidson expertly directed the work. Twenty-six class officers, ranging from Seniors to Freshmen, three chairmen and three judges, comprised the members of the Council. Richard Rance, Irene Murphy, and Bianca Zwang, student representatives in the Marshal Court, proved to be fair and square judges when it came to disciplining student offenders.

In their war effort the Council worked on a campaign to raise funds for a Red Cross Ambulance. The sum of fifteen hundred dollars was presented to the Red Cross in May. A similar drive was held in the last war in 1917.

A most unique method was employed in raising the money. A large cross was built, containing a marked square for each division room in the school. As each room filled its quota their corresponding square was colored red. Finally, when the full amount had been reached the cross became a Red Cross, serving as a symbol for that glorious organization. Money was also raised by Players and the Hostess Club. All in all, the task facing the students was great, but through perseverance and loyalty to their country they made the fund a great success.

Also aiding the war effort the All School Council boosted the sale of Defense Savings Stamps and Bonds. Each division teacher obtained the stamps from the office and sold them to members of their own division room.

The all year round Clean Up Campaign also reached its apex in the Spring semester. An assembly stressing this campaign was held during April and the Consumer's Pledge for Total Defense was issued by the committee and signed by all students.

Much credit is due to all those concerned with this committee for helping their government win the war. Especially, appreciation goes out to Mr. Davidson for his splendid co-operation.

FOOTBALL

Many great teams have represented our North Side school in previous years but any one who has followed Green and White athletics for any length of time will admit that the Bulldog football squad of 1941 was one of the finest units ever to represent Senn.

These boys more than offset their lack of bulk by sheer grit and determination to win and it was these qualities alone that accounted for much of their success.

In the regular 8-game schedule the boys went through their section race with a 1000 average and when they represented the North Section against the South Section Champs, Fenger, they lost, but solely because Lady Luck had pointed an evil finger towards their side.

Taft was the first victim of the Bulldogs, bowing 13-0, and then Schurz, Lake View, Roosevelt, Amundsen, Lane, Sullivan and Waller fell in rapid fire succession.

The highlight of the season featured a spectacular clash between Senn and its perennial rival, the Amundsen Vikings, in the fifth game on the calendar. Both squads came up to the fray with a 1000 average and after four periods of breathtaking playing, which had the 10,000 people in a near state of hysteria, Senn punched out a 6-0 victory as the result of a thrilling last minute rally.

Trying to select a standout performer on this team is an absolute impossibility. All the way down from the line, composed of seven rocks of granite, to an array of fleet, hard running backs stood a powerful aggregation.

The line was so potent that only 12 points could be scored on it in eight games and the offense was so devastating that 143 points were chalked up.

Mal (Swede) Pearson and Don Alvarez in the forward line were a duo deserving of special commendation. Mal was named an all-city, all-district, and all-state tackle; in addition he was the recipient of the Noble Kizer Award annually presented to the outstanding performer in the Public High School League. Don captured all-city and all-district awards and was also elected honorary captain for the year.

At the wing posts Dave Byers, Bob Weinberg, and Jack Brown were the main stars and many times the slashing tackles of Brown and Byers, plus the spectacular pass-snaring wizardry of Sabu Weinberg, pulled the team out of a precarious hole.

At the tackle positions Bob Smart and the aforementioned Swede Pearson were the standouts. Smart, a strapping 6 ft. 2 in. 210 lb. player of unusual strength and ability, was a tremendous asset in stopping enemy thrusts at the line. Pearson's value has already been shown.

The guard positions were ably handled by Dave Cunniff and Don Alvarez, both essential cogs in the Senn machine. The center duties were taken over by Vern McHugh and Al Pounian, each of whom performed creditably.

Harold Wilson, Glenn Juergensen, Fred Roos, Tom Brownell, and Gaylord Hughes cheering Senn athletes to victory.

Cheerleader Captain Edwin Lundien and two sets of twins, Senn's first girl cheerleaders, Joellyn Cowan, Marilyn Leithardt, Tex, Joyce Leithardt, and Joan Cowan.

In analyzing the backfield one just can't overlook the bonecrushing blocks of Norm Harris, winner of the Dr. Timmons' Memorial Blocking Trophy; the flashy sprints of One-Play Micotto; the long, twisting end runs of Dick Stull, and the fine work of Bill Brown. All these boys helped produce the thrills which made for such a successful year.

No team can be a champion without its share of adequate reserve strength and Senn was no exception to the rule. Those who especially stood out were Yale Ogron, Dick Irland, Jim Moran, Marsh Levinson, Bob Teichert, Eddie Solotke and Bob Kietzman.

A football story of this team would not be complete without an all out salute to Coach Eddie Dow, indeed a mighty leader. His conscientiousness, patience, perseverance, and especially his faith in his own lads helped to make the football season of 1941 a banner year in Senn's history. We students of Senn are truly proud of you and your great team, Coach Dow.

JUNIOR BASKETBALL

The Junior edition of Senn's basketball machine was not as fortunate as their older brothers but by virtue of improved play in the last half of the season the boys managed to wind up the season with a 500 rating.

Ineligibility greatly diminished Senn's title hopes and had it not been for the steady play of Mel Carlson, and Ernie Couture, who accounted for 99 points between them, the team would have flopped badly. Ernie chalked up 58 of these points and Mel registered the other 41.

For some unknown reason the boys sparkled on foreign courts, winning four of their six contests away and losing three out of four on their home grounds.

In general the team gave a fairly good account of itself and next year with a veteran squad returning a championship looms as a distinct possibility.

The Bulldogs lost their first two games of the season, bowing to two powerful quintets, Lane Tech and Roosevelt. The boys then regained their shooting eyes and also garnered some confidence to whip Steinmetz 30-28 in an exciting overtime thriller. Taft then fell the second victim to the Bulldogs, but then the boys suffered two reverses, losing to Von Steuben and Waller. However, they quickly snapped out of it and smashed out three impressive triumphs over Schurz, Lake View and Amundsen. In the final game of the year they were defeated by the North Section Champs, Waller, in a highly entertaining contest.

Now that the dust of all the battles has finally cleared away and the season's records are filed away in the books, we feel it is an opportune time to predict some of the great things expected from next year's squad.

Coach Leighton, whose years of spirited leadership at Senn have tabbed him as one of Chicago's finest prep coaches, can be counted on next year to take his customary place at the helm of the junior destinies. He promises to guide them to a top flight berth in the North Section race.

SENIOR BASKETBALL

The Green and White Senior Cagers concluded a very successful campaign in the North Section by winding up the season with nine wins and one loss. The only blotch on their record occurred when the North Section Champs, Lane Tech, whipped our boys 21-19 in the opening overtime game of the season. The squad then went out and rolled up nine consecutive triumphs before bowing to Kelvyn Park in the playoff round.

The Senn quintet was one of the most potent fives in the city as evidenced by the 423 points that were accumulated during the regular 10 game schedule.

Individual scoring honors were taken by Corky Prentice who amassed an impressive total of 127 points during the campaign. Ray Berns, diminutive dynamo, followed with 81 points while Ray Mueller, the gangling center, looped in 64 points. The rest of the scoring was well balanced with Kaucher, Comfere, Scanlan, Cooper, Olander, Simon, Gilbertson, and Zuccarello registering 32, 29, 26, 9, 6, 4, 2, and 1 points, respectively.

Co-captains Ray Berns and Art Leighton each gave excellent exhibitions of leadership and these boys played an integral part in the precision like accuracy of the senior scoring machine.

During the annual Stagg Tournament at the University of Chicago the boys showed real class when they won their first two encounters in overtime struggles, and in the third game when they played probably one of the greatest games any Senn team has ever engaged in. After a bitter and heart-breaking struggle, the valiant Bulldogs fell to Nat Clifton and his mighty DuSable teammates 35-31 in their third consecutive overtime battle.

Excepting Lane Tech the boys found the teams comparatively weak in comparison with their own squad. It seems as though the cagers had things quite their own way during the regular 10 game schedule and had they not been afflicted with a bad case of jitters in their playoff game with the speedy and aggressive Kelvyn Park five an entirely different ending might have been forthcoming.

APPARATUS

1942 proved another banner year for Coach Bergmann's gymnasts as they swept their third straight city championship in a sport where competition is keen.

It was sheer hard work that gave the boys a right to the title. Everyday from the beginning of the semester the team worked through a difficult routine. By virtue of this conditioning the boys gained a physical fortitude which not only enabled them to attain first place but also will prepare them physically for later life.

The team was divided into three divisions: championship, intermediate, and novice. In the championship division Marv Looper turned in an outstanding performance to win the individual title. Roy Roller took second place and Bill Vrettos, Jack Peterson and Stu Fox placed fifth, sixth, and seventh in the meet, respectively. All these boys except Roy Roller will graduate this June.

Gaylord Hughes, Glenn Juergensen, Frank Harris and Dick Meister captured the first four intermediate places. All these fellows are juniors. This gives Senn a good foundation for next year's team. The Novices were lead by Steve Schlaffer and Don Wendt who placed first and third respectively.

Because of the amazing performance of the team eleven major and six minor letters were awarded. The major monograms went to Marv Looper, Roy Roller, Bill Vrettos, Jack Peterson, Stu Fox, Gaylord Hughes, Glenn Juergensen, Frank Harris, Dick Meister, Gene Johnson and Steve Schlaffer. Don Wendt, Dick Spector, Mal Carlson, Van Herrick, Phil Ruck and Harold Wilson received minor letters. Harold Wilson

One week after the city meet the team completed its successful season by taking the Central A.A.U. In this meet Roy Roller captured individual honors, closely followed by Marv Looper who landed third.

During the season the gymnasts gave several exhibitions. One time the whole team went through their paces before the four class assemblies in Senn Hall. Former star Senn gymnast, Howie Jaynes, was invited and gave demonstrations of fancy diving off the spring board.

FENCING

Some of the skeptical Fencing observers were given many thrills this year as they watched the fighting Senn Fencing squad breeze through its powerful schedule. Not the least bit hesitant, these observers without too much fear are citing the team as one of the finest foiling aggregations ever produced by an Illinois high school.

When their season was officially closed, Coach Shaffner was indeed proud and happy to hand major letters to Don Gasson, Roy Herter, Stan Jacobs, Humphrey Sullivan, Sam Gelb, and Bob Wiley, and minor monograms to Bernard Shipen and Jack Vidt. Don's was a manager's letter and an award which he richly deserved as he served loyally in this capacity all year.

Senn's success was no sudden occurrence. Before the regular season officially opened, the boys were taking the measures of high schools far and wide and giving many a college squad a splendid case of the jitters. When the high school season did open, Coach Shaffner had almost a dozen capable men available.

Their start was so impressive that they were installed as co-favorites in the historic Kraft Cup along with Austin and Lindblom. But, sad as it may seem, the Green and White did not capture that one, dropping a tough play-off match to a veteran Lindblom team.

After that a series of successes ensued until the State Individual Meet came along. There two Sennites, Roy Herter and Stan Jacobs, completely dominated the competition, Roy coming out Illinois State High School Champ and Stan the number two foiler. In the City High School event, the team shattered all records as it strode to an easy triumph. Scoring more points than any other group in city prep history, Stan Jacobs, Roy Herter, Bob Wiley and Humphrey Sullivan, who composed the squad on this occasion, all qualified for the individual section of the program. This time Stan won the title, Roy was second, and Bob and Humphrey finished fourth and seventh, respectively.

The entire school joined in extending congratulations to Coach Shaffner and the members of his team for bringing Senn this championship.

TENNIS AND GOLF

The outstanding reputation of Senn tennis teams will definitely be continued this year as Senn once more produces a formidable squad. With Jerry Evert, National Indoor Boys' Champion and one of the leading racqueteers in the country to lead the team, the Green and White have a very capable number one man. Bob David, Hubie Rance, Warren Clauson, Dave Loewenberg, and Bob Coleman are the other performers who are hoping to lead Senn in a successful defense of its 1941 city title.

In the state qualifying rounds played at the University of Chicago on April 29 Senn placed four performers in the state tournament. The lucky quartet consisted of Jerry Evert and Bob David in the singles, and Hubie Rance and Warren Clausen in the doubles. By virtue of their outstanding feat, the Senn aggregation went down to Champaign with the best record of any of the Chicago schools. If the boys come through as expected, another state championship will be chalked up to Coach Leighton and his band of enthusiastic netters.

In their first league match of the season, Sullivan was downed 3 to 0 and not one set was dropped by the local boys in their easy triumph. This is just an indication of the team's powers and the big things looming on the tennis horizon as Coach Leighton drives his boys to bigger and better things in the spring of 1942.

With Coach Shaffner at the helm of the Senn par busters, the boys are anticipating a successful campaign. The responsibility of making those low scores falls on the shoulders of Don Cohen, Dave Fargo, Stu Neuman and Gene Gordon. The first two golfers are veterans from last year's group and if the newcomers begin slashing out those long 200 yard drives, Senn's golfers will pile up an impressive record in the North Section race.

The boys looked pretty classy in the first contest, pounding out an $8\frac{1}{2}$ to $4\frac{1}{2}$ victory over a good Lake View team. If this triumph is an indication of the other section schools, then Senn should do an excellent job in the 1942 golf race.

BASEBALL

With the season a little more than half over the 1942 Senn baseball squad is making an excellent effort to wind up the season in the first division.

The opening games of the schedule proved very disastrous as the Green and White dropped the first three games, two of them by one run margins to Schurz and Waller respectively. Even though the boys were very downhearted at their reversals, nevertheless they took advantage of the spring vacation and practiced together diligently, trying to work out the kinks that existed in their attack. The old adage of "practice makes perfect" really proved its worth for in their next contest the boys picked themselves up and squeezed out a 1-0 triumph over the Amundsen Vikings to drop them from the undefeated ranks.

In their next game a powerful Lane Tech squad turned on the pressure to inflict a stinging defeat on our boys.

Here the boys regained their composure and pounded out two successive victories over Von Steuben and Lake View by identical scores of 14-0. In both of these games Lou Rosin, the Bulldog's slab ace, pitched magnificently and in the Lake View game he accomplished his greatest feat by hurling a no-hit game. This was Lou's second no-hitter game against the same team.

In the next game with Taft, two squeeze plays by the President were sufficient for them to eke out a narrow 7-6 victory over the battling Sennites. It was a tough one to lose as it made a dent in Senn's hopes for third place.

The Senn batters went on another rampage in the following game with Roosevelt punching out their way to a 16-3 rout.

In the pitching department Lou Rosin's services were invaluable. Lou hurled three shut-out games, one of them a no-hitter, and in his fourth league victory Roosevelt managed to cross the plate three times. In addition to his pitching chores, Lou also proved very capable at the bat, banging out on the average of two hits per game.

Defensively Senn's team was one of the best in the section and on certain occasions they proved very potent at the plate.

SWIMMING

Although the Senn swimming team tasted success in many of the individual swimming encounters, the season was regarded as rather mediocre because the boys landed only two points in the city meet. These marks were garnered by Glenn Juergensen, who placed fourth in the diving event.

At the beginning of the season Coach Bergmann had only five swimmers returning on the junior team. These boys, Oscar Beyer, Leroy Bergstrom, Don Scherwat, Tom Brownell, and Jack Austin, proved to be the nucleus of the team. They opened the season on February 26 with a successful 33-11 victory over Von Steuben. Then the fellows successfully swept through Steinmetz 43-14, Kelvyn Park 37-26, and Taft 30-27. The boys who played the key parts in these victories received letters. Major monograms were awarded to Don Scherwat and Oscar Beyer; minor letters were given to Leroy Bergstrom, Roy Balder and Jack Austin.

The seniors had nine swimmers returning but lost the services of Ed "Tex" Lundien and Wilkenson. In the first meet at Von Steuben the fellows triumphed by a decisive 36-20 score. Although losing against Steinmetz they bounced back to win against Kelvyn Park 36-29 and Taft 34-22. Ten letters were bestowed on the seniors. Jim Quall, David Willens, Charles Bauer, John Miller, and Glenn Juergensen received major letters and Tom Jones, Anthony Konstant, Tom Brownell and Miguel De Cruz were awarded minor letters.

Considering the fact that Senn does not emphasize swimming as some other schools do the boys did remarkably well. Under the able tutorage of Coach Bergmann many fellows have been developed into worthy swimmers.

Many boys in the present team will return next year and with this as a foundation Coach Bergmann has a good start. However, many more fellows are needed both in the junior and senior divisions. If boys take up swimming early they will be taught the fundamentals of the strokes and perhaps emerge as top flight swimmers. Although the city title is a very distant goal, a championship team can be built eventually if the material turns out.

TRACK

Though not as successful as most Green and White track teams, the Junior speedsters managed to take fourth place in the city track meet. The sole point winners for the Senior squad were Sherman Ascher and Marshall Levinson who won fourth and fifth places, respectively, in the broad jump in the city meet.

The Juniors captured the first two places in the 60 yard dash as Don Bahusky won this event in the impressive time of :06.7 and was closely followed by his team-mate Leonard Bressler.

Senn's other points in the junior division were scored by the relay team composed of Theodore Kemp, Warren Gleason, Leonard Bressler and Don Bahusky, which took second in the final trials. Don Wendt picked up the remaining points when he tied for third in the pole vault and Don is looking forward to a possible city championship in the outdoor season.

In reward for their outstanding performances seven boys received letters. The lucky Juniors were Don Bahusky, Leonard Bressler, Theodore Kemp, Warren Gleason and Don Wendt. The twosome of Ascher and Levinson were the other letter winners in the senior division.

The Senn track followers, however, are hoping for big things in the city outdoor meet to be held in June. Several of the boys who were counted on to take points in the city meet did not come through as expected but because of their rather disappointing showing, especially in the Senior class, they are determined to make amends for it in some way and nothing would please them more than to walk off with a few city titles. Let's hope that the boys get their wish and that Coach Dow can drive his tracksters once more to a formidable standing in high school circles.

SENN COACHES

Senn is indeed fortunate in having an athletic director as capable as Coach Shaffner. Since 1929 Coach Shaffner has been head of the Senn Athletic Association and his efficient work has contributed a great deal to Senn's athletic achievements. Mr. Shaffner has guided the destinies of the Senn Fencers and his success is clearly shown by the honors won.

Everyone marvels at the success of Senn teams on the gridiron and though we like to give the players credit for their achievements we just cannot overlook the man on the bench, that brainy strategian, Coach Dow, who shares a great responsibility in the success of Senn teams. Coach Dow has always produced fine teams and his ability to get along with the fellas is remarkable.

Coach Friker accomplished a task of gigantic proportions this year when he remolded the marshal system into the precise organization it is. Last year's golf coach, he now devotes his entire time to the marshals and his daily gym classes.

Coach Leighton is an outstanding leader along the lines of basketball and tennis and his teams have achieved unusual success in both of these sports. He is one of the swellest fellas at school and he tries to give all his players an equal chance.

At the head of the Senn baseball team is one of our most jovial personalities, Coach Clements. His teams are always near the top and in the near future a city title should be in Senn's possession. Coach Clements is extremely conscientious about any activity he undertakes and he's determined to make Senn's prowess in the city league.

Coach Bergmann, one of Senn's veteran coaches, once again experienced a successful campaign. For the third consecutive year he guided the gymnasts to a city title and one week later his team took first in the Central A.A.U. meet. Coach Bergmann has also developed some outstanding swimmers.

The Girls' Athletic Association is a city-wide high school organization sponsored by the Board of Education, open to all girls interested in athletic and social activity. Opportunity is given for participation in swimming and sports in season. Four days a week are open for extra-curricular athletics. This semester about two hundred fifty girls took part regularly in swimming, volley-ball, and soft ball.

The GAA is also vitally interested in promoting friendship and wholesome recreation by means of social activities. This semester the events included a bingo party, breakfast, roller skating party, treasure hunt, two supper hikes, and an award party.

This year a GAA board was organized, composed of the officers and Betty Mahannah, Nancy Robertson, Betty Hermansen, Dolores Happ, Nanette Linck, and Kennette Glentzer, whose duty it was to outline the activities of the association, aid students in accumulating points for a letter, and work out improvements for the club as a whole.

At this time the GAA is especially important as an instrument to build morale and physical fitness in the community and Mrs. Jones is on the alert as to its great value.

As a side line of the SGAA is the Senn Letter Girls under the direction of Mrs. Jones. For one semester's participation the student receives her numerals; with 500 points she receives the SGAA emblem, and 1000 points entitles her to the school letter. Points are awarded for work in school activities, health, scholarship, and leadership. Some of these activities are carried on in the school under teachers' supervision, while others are done outside on the student's own time.

Points are divided in this way: Gymnasium classwork, 100 points; Health, 200 points; Team games, 200 points; Individual Activities, 300 points; Leadership or Service, 100 points, and Scholarship, 100 points. After winning her school letter, a girl may win a chevron by earning 300 more points.

The only sport in which a girl may win a letter is swimming. To do this she must have 500 points, 400 of which are earned in swimming, and the rest for Sportsmanship, Leadership and Scholarship.

GIRLS' FENCING

Senn girls who are interested in the art of self-defense now have the opportunity to prove to the world that they can defend themselves without the aid of the opposite sex! Fencing classes under the supervision and guidance of Miss Greiner give this training in two separate divisions.

The beginning class learns the fundamentals of fencing, the elementary parries and attacks. Toward the end of the semester they experience a little combat with their classmates. After one semester as a beginner the pupil goes to the advanced class. This class learns the more intricate attacks and parries, spending most of the time in the actual art of fencing. The three most advanced pupils this year were Jackie Olson, Fay Sperling, and Alice Andreos.

As to equipment, the school furnishes the masks and foils for the students' use. The young ladies who take this course in fencing may substitute it for one day of regular gym. Only juniors and seniors are eligible for the course.

The members of the two classes are hoping to start a club for advanced fencers to improve their ability and to join in outside activities. The pupils may earn points toward the SGAA.

Assuming that the girls who join the classes go in for it whole-heartedly, a course is planned which will improve their physical and mental health. So, girls, if you want to lose weight, become more agile, or improve your health in general, we recommend that you join Miss Greiner's fencing classes. As for entertainment, the SGAA put on a gym show for the girls, which included girls performing on the apparatus, dramatic skits, and a fencing exhibition.

This year the Nereids worked in very close collaboration with the SGAA. The two clubs had all their social activities together and members of the Nereids automatically became members of the SGAA. Any girl able to swim one hundred yards and do a simple dive is eligible for membership. The swimming periods for Nereids are fourth on Friday and eighth and ninth on Monday, at which time the girls may come to improve their swimming and diving and work for a letter. To earn a letter the Nereids must gain four hundred points in swimming and one hundred in sportsmanship, leadership, and scholarship.

This spring, as a part of the general Physical Fitness program, the girls took an imaginary swim around Lake Michigan. It was the lake which was imaginary, not the seven hundred eighty miles of swimming. The girls' progress was marked on a large map of the lake showing the location of various cities and landmarks, as they covered the distance in five length units (two miles) in the pool.

On the twenty-fifth of May the Nereids along with the SGAA were hostess to girls from six other schools in a Play Day at Senn. They held swimming races and four Nereids presented the water ballet, which they did at Taft High School, at a Splash Party to which eight schools sent representatives.

Throughout the year the Nereids had loads of fun besides improving their swimming technique under Mrs. Harold's keen supervision and encouragement.

1942 FORUM ANNUAL

Over a period of ten months the 1942 Forum Staff worked incessantly in the face of obstacles caused by paper and copper priorities to bring the students an annual such as they had never had before—new, different and better in every possible respect. Under the splendid guidance of Miss Corcoran the staff energetically worked toward the goal, reached it, and surpassed even its own expectations.

Organization and supervision of the book was placed on the shoulders of Juanita Penn, Editor-in-Chief. Heading the list of her very capable associates was Assistant Editor Doris Brailsford, who is to be commended for her fine handling of the graduates' biographies. All the activities and the spelling of names had to be double checked as no chances could be taken on making mistakes. An efficient typist was needed and Lenore Wilson qualified to the letter.

Ingenious managers of a highly successful sales campaign were Business Manager Helen Sloane and Assistant Manager Martha Pink. Book-keeping and handling of financial problems were the tasks which kept these two girls working all year.

Boys' athletic teams came alive and big games were relived through the writing of Dave Loewenberg, Ted Wedell, and Russ Dudley. There were many victories and great achievements which it was their job to record, giving Sennites lasting evidence of the ability of our entire lot of athletes and enabling the rest of the staff to carry through the theme of the book.

All the organizations were expertly taken care of by Alice Andreos whose special task was rewriting, correcting, and in general making the write-ups acceptable in journalistic circles. In the same capacity over the clubs was Barbara Wyatt, working long hours to finish her job at a specified time.

Publication Principals

Jane Wilkinson of the Art Staff contributed hard work and a greatly appreciated service in the clever way she handled layouts for the snapshots at the end of the book. Important odd jobs were efficiently disposed of by three up and coming students, Natalie Olin, Naomi Maltz and Marjorie Robineau.

This wonderful book could never have been accomplished without the close cooperation of everyone working on the staff and the consistently adept direction of Miss Corcoran and Editor-in-Chief Juanita Penn, who rates as one of the Forum's outstanding editors.

SENN NEWS

During this year the Senn News celebrated its silver anniversary. To commemorate the first days of the paper the members of the staff had their picture taken in the attire of twenty-five years ago for the first edition of the year 1941-1942. Heading the staff in the fall semester to turn out a paper which, too, will be remembered after twenty-five years was Editor-in-Chief Barbara Stanton and her assistants, Thelma Blum and Gail Robinson. At mid-year graduation the staff suffered some serious losses but the positions were capably filled by expert successors. This time the staff had three big shots, Editors Barbara Stanton, Josephine Ehlers, and Marian Archibald, and in the positions to assist them were Assistant Editors Gloria Gettleman, Erwin Goldfarb, and Jeanne Andersen.

One of the most important accomplishments of the year was the receiving of a letter from Dr. William H. Johnson, Superintendent of Schools, in recognition of one of its special issues, the Shops Edition. Something new in the history of the paper was the addition of a two-page supplement of pictures to this edition.

The most notable issues in the fall were the super-duper Bulldog Edition and the patriotic Americanism paper, while those of the spring semester were the Shops Edition and the Humor Edition.

One of our most enthusiastic, bona fide supporters of Senn News was Principal Davidson. Through him came the inspiration for the Americanism issue.

Of course the paper would never have attained such high praise or progressed so well had it not been expertly supervised by our capable Miss Corcoran. Thanks are also in line to the whole staff who by contributing so generously made the paper have a worth-while year.

MARSHALS

Under the able leadership of Mr. Friker, Supervisor, the Senn Student Marshal Organization has again proved its merit during the course of the year by enforcing the school rules and doing its share to make Senn the school it is. Coöperating with the Student Court, the Marshals have cut down on the number of offenses daily.

This court is comprised of three Marshal Judges elected each semester by the 4A, 4B, and 3A classes, respectively. Richard Rance, Irene Murphy, and Bianca Swang in the spring semester and Robert Smart, William Church and Norman Cowin in the fall term executed their duties in an expert manner. At court sessions Principal Davidson, Mr. Friker, Marshal Adviser, and three marshals are present.

The Student Court, with judges recommended by the Marshals and elected by the student body, tries cases referred to it by the Marshals. Such offenses as running in the corridors, constant violations, making decisions on evidence presented, and meting out just punishment to all come under their duties. Sponsored by Principal Davidson, the Court meets once a week on Friday mornings, and in the few semesters it has been functioning has already earned a name for fair dealing and just decisions.

Beginning the spring semester with a grand staff of officers headed by Colonel Robert Burklund, Lieutenant Colonel Sheldon Charone, and Major Executive Stanley Jacobs, the Marshals continued their marvelous work of continuously adding to their great record of service to Senn and its students.

PLAYERS

Now here's a theatrical group who really accomplished things under the direction of Miss Skillen! Yes, they are Senn Players. These people love their work and it is the opinion of all who witnessed any of their productions that their performances show it. The Players worked in close collaboration with the Workers to offer many distinctive presentations.

This is the group that produced lawyers, judges, and henchmen from its ranks to perform in that unforgettable drama, Judgment Day. The play was presented December 10 and 12 to suspense-filled audiences that were exceedingly interested in the action of this startling rendition. The portrayals of characters were excellent and the play was very apropos.

Players chalked up another victory when they presented a play at the Contesters of America Convention. What did Senn's pride and joy do? Why, they walked off with practically all the prizes for their clever offering, Prize for Two.

Did the Players get a surprise when they were preparing for their Parents' Tea! They discovered, while rehearsing their play, Shakespeare Streamlined, that most accepted slang is a product of that Bard-of all-Time, Master Shakespeare. During their preparation the Players began to acquire a sort of nostalgic feeling about Shakespeare and they decided he had something more to offer than slang. When the Parents' Tea became a reality in February the general consensus seemed to be that they had been royally entertained.

Wasn't there any end to this group's vitality? It didn't seem so because the next thing you know they were staging a prom in March, even if it was only a stage version, for the benefit of the Ambulance Fund. In this hilarious comedy,

Prom Nite, someone had to wear tennis sneakers to the prom and one unfortunate lad had to don a tux big enough for two people and to top it off had to take a girl to the prom who had never had a date except with a calendar. Prom Nite did a wonderful job of keeping the audience in stitches and it also helped to keep the ambulance fee well-threaded. Miss Lynch, Senn speech teacher, authored this comedy.

Besides being an industrious, inventive group these people were also socially inclined and they liked to meet the group parents, consequently they gave a tea in conjunction with the Workers for their Parents. These two groups working in collaboration really showed their parents a fine time. They served refreshments and presented some very engrossing entertainment.

Players were always glad to present plays for the benefit of various charitable organizations at Senn and they always succeeded in drawing in a lot of money. Ghost Steps, a fascinating mystery story, was presented April 16 in Senn Hall for the benefit of the Senn Student Service. This puzzler had a high content of thrills, chills, and suspense. It not only drew in a lot of money but provided some exceedingly good entertainment.

Instead of presenting their annual Spring play this year the Players varied it by putting on three one-act plays in the latter part of May. There were fifty Players all decked out in their new Spring roles, each doing a fine job.

These vigorous people set their own fast pace and kept to it throughout the semester. They made their audiences howl with laughter, tighten up with suspense, or cry over the lost heroine. Each production which the Players presented was another chapter of an outstanding success story. Under the expert direction of Miss Skillen they made characters live and dozens of situations became realities. Congratulations to this fine group for the time and work they've put in to offer tops in entertainment value.

WORKERS

Workers? Who are they? Why, they're the unheard, unseen, mystic beings who move and remove props and scenery and create moods and effects for all Senn productions under the direction of Miss Doniat, veteran producer. You've seen them when they were hurrying through the halls carrying ladders, tools, or costumes, or you've heard them pounding away in the dugout. They always wear smocks, shop coats, or carpenter aprons.

These ingenious people, who never tire of working nor count the cost but work for the joy of it, during the year drew plans and settings for plays and musicals, for tragedies and comedies from the Shakespearean age to a commencement day stage for modern youth. They made weird noises and loud bangs for thunderstorms and produced a Cornish Castle for the Chimes of Normandy. From the depths of their working quarters they conjured up judges' robes, costumes, pistol reports, an effective dark setting, and recreated a courtroom scene all for Judgment Day. They reproduced the halls of a school building and handed up make-believe shoe polish at just the right time for Prom Nite. To add to their tasks everything has to be made to carry at audience distance; the audience must be put under a spell and this requires keen, intelligent thinking.

Workers wielded paint brushes, brooms, pens, hammers, needles, and scissors with equal skill. They made startling and romantic scenes sometimes by using properties and flats of former productions, sometimes by rebuilding, always by repainting in new color schemes. No matter what the program—whether guest speakers, plays, assemblies or concerts—all must go as smoothly as the play itself out in front. After a production a Worker's job isn't really finished until everything is back where it belongs and ready for its next use.

SENN ROTC

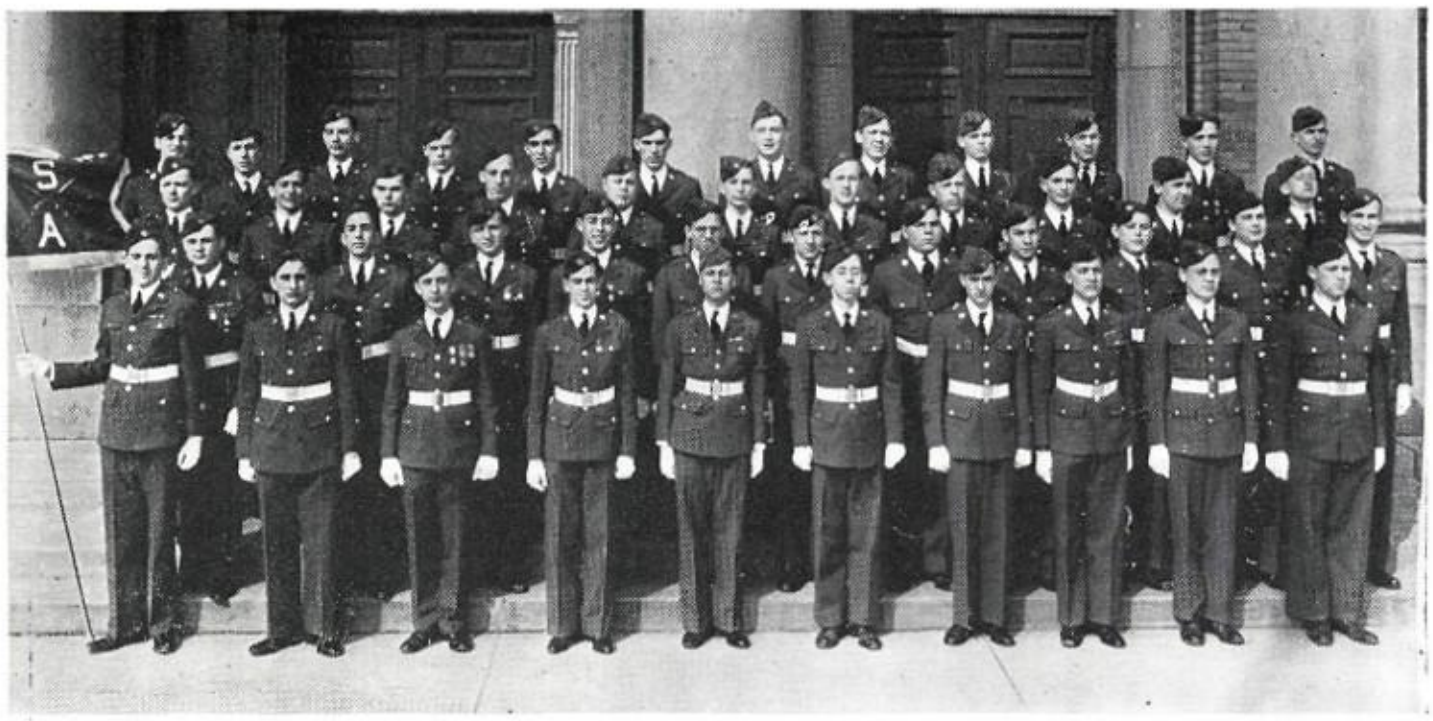
Beginning a year in which the Military became increasingly important, ROTC achieved a new position among the subjects taught at Senn. With a Regiment numbering the second largest in the city and the largest in the history of Senn, Staff Sgt. Albert J. Cloutier and Sgt. Alfred Fulton, Military Instructors, started immediately training and organizing the huge body of cadets into a unit worthy of representing Senn in the Annual Federal Inspection held in the Spring.

Heading the Regiment was Lieutenant-Colonel Joseph Novotny, who by his own good example provided a goal which every cadet strives to attain. Assisting Col. Novotny was his staff of officers who were responsible to him for the instruction and training of the cadets.

Rating fourth place in the 6th Corps Area in the last Federal Inspection, Senn ROTC advanced several places this year through intense application of matters learned and longer hours of study. A prime factor in determining the rating of a regiment is its military bearing and drill. This was exemplified in the splendid showing made by Senn's Crack Platoon at the Annual Platoon Competition at the 132nd Infantry Armory on March 28. The cadets forming the platoon worked since school began in the Fall, drilling an hour and a half daily on all the complex movements taught them by Major Melvin Straus, Platoon Supervisor, and 1st Lts. Richard Rance and Russell Neff.

Highlighting the Fall semester in social affairs was the Officers' Dinner Dance October 8 and the Military Ball December 19. The Ball, held at the Knickerbocker Hotel, was a huge success from all angles. Major George Roeschlein, Committee Chairman, and his hardworking committee made up of Honorary Chairman Lt. Col. Joseph Novotny, Major William Church, Capt. Melvin Straus, Capt. Robert Beebe, Capt. David Finley, Capt. Robert Trau, 1st Lt. Jack Deas, 1st Lt. Jack Sorenson, 2nd Lt. Donald Thompson, and 2nd Lt. Alvin Kohn outdid themselves in arranging and decorating the Grand Ballroom so that all guests enjoyed the affair to the utmost. Heading a list of entertainers at the ROTC Hop was Bill Thompson, radio entertainer of the Fibber McGee and Molly Show.



COMPANY A—1ST PLATOON

For excellent work in ROTC in the course of the Fall semester the following cadets were awarded medals: Capt. Melvin Straus, 1st Lt. Arthur Scateni, Sgt. Donald Coombs, Cdts. John Adorjan, Sheldon Lasky, Marvin Peterson, Capt. Robert Burklund, Lt. Col. Joseph Novotny, Capt. Robert Trau, Sgt. Paul Gilmartin, St. Sgt. John Myers, Cdt. Roger Orenstein, Major George Roeschlien, Sgt. Robert Perdue, Cdt. Noval Anderson, 2nd Lt. Alvin Kohn, Cpl. Burton Ditkowsky, Cdts. Wayne Dahlgren, Maurice Lathouwers, George Schellman, Ronald Schloss, Robert Henry, Paul Jones, John Lingrun and Thomas Sugars.

Beginning the Spring semester where the old left off, Lt. Col. William Church took command and immediately began driving toward first place Federal rating. Coöperating with the school to the fullest extent, ROTC guards and ushers with the Color Guard were present at all school affairs, assemblies, football games,

PTA meetings. Under the supervision of Captain George Ehrlich these chosen cadets took the responsibility of keeping order at the affairs and never once in the course of the entire year was this trust betrayed.

In keeping with the tradition of service, Senn ROTC worked at neighborhood grammar schools and at Senn on Registration Day, aiding registrars, working in some instances for fourteen hours as guards. Aiding the Marshals, picked cadets acted as lunchroom guards, straightening out traffic and seeing that things ran smoothly. Under 1st Lt. Hans Zwang this detail was highly complimented many times by teachers and students.

were resumed and the campus became a scene of mock battles and parades which harmonized readily with the military atmosphere which pervaded the country at this time. The Regimental Hike made in the Spring gave the cadets a chance to put to practical application everything studied and practiced during the year. Finally after drilling until the last minute the Federal Inspection arrived. Marching on the field in full splendor the Regiment went into maneuvers before the inspecting party, demonstrating all the facts learned through the year and practiced diligently. The place attained in the corps area by Senn show precisely what hard work and grand spirit will do.

GIRLS' MILITARY CORPS

Bea Bensdorf	Commander	Carol Reid

The Girls' Military Corps is made up of eleven baton twirlers and twelve girl members of the Concert Band. The corps, which was formed in the spring of 1939 by a couple of ambitious young girls who were anxious to become Senn Drum Majorettes, now meets every day during the eighth period in the ROTC room, or on the warm days out of doors to practice. The Band girls are found in the Band Room seventh and eighth periods or parading on the campus.

Officers of the group must be well qualified and have the approval of the head of the Concert Band, Captain Charles Ostergren, ROTC instructor, Sergeant Albert Cloutier, Sergeant Alfred Fulton, assistant military instructor, and Colonel David M. Davidson.

Girls from the band, as well as the twirling corps, were well represented in the National Drum Contest. Peggy De Ball received a well deserved grade of E in the flute section, and Carol Reid, Jean Gerkin, Betty Gerkin, and Bea Bensdorf came in second in the baton twirling contests.

Members of the corps have performed at football games, band concerts, pow-wows, ROTC reviews, assemblies, and practically every school activity.

The corps also has meetings every two weeks at one of the girls' homes. Under the guidance of their able sponsor, Miss Greiner, the group plans many enjoyable and adventuresome outside amusements.

The girls have already held a swimming party at the Sovereign Hotel, a beach party at Montrose Beach, a lovely luncheon at the Orrington Hotel in Evanston, hikes and horseback riding parties.

SENN R.O.T.C. BAND

SENN CONCERT BAND

Under the leadership of Captain Charles Ostergren, the Concert Band is one of the most active groups at Senn. Besides giving two successful concerts a year, they march with the ROTC at the Federal Inspection, play at assemblies, provide for plays and musicals and play for the PTA of the Public Schools in the vicinity of Senn.

In the City Band Contest this year the band received a grade of E in competition with other Class A bands. Class A consists of bands with a membership of from 72 to 90 members. In all the contests of past years Senn band has never received a rating below E and 90 per cent of its ratings are S.

Starring in the City Solo Contest were Major Arthur Scateni and Harlan Schwartzbach, both of whom received the grade of E, and Eugene Arist who made the grade of G in the Cornet Solo Contest; Captain Donald Thompson earned the grade of E in the Clarinet Solo Contest, and Jon Hachikian merited the grade of G on the drums and E on the xylophone; Earl Steinborn was awarded the grade of E on the drums.

The band officers have really worked hard trying to build up a first class band. They have gone to special meetings given for ROTC Officers, and have tried to run the band on a military basis. The officers are picked by Captain Charles Ostergren and Staff Sgt. Albert J. Cloutier, ROTC Military Instructor.

Officers for the Fall Semester were Major Homer Stark, Captain Leslie Seibert, 1st Lieutenant Arthur Scateni, 2nd Lieutenant Donald Thompson, and 2nd Lieutenant Jack Olriksen.

Officers for the Spring Semester were Major Arthur Scateni, Captain Donald Thompson, 1st Lieutenant Jack Olriksen, 2nd Lieutenant William Flanagan, and 2nd Lieutenant John Meyer.

Through years of building up, Senn has acquired one of the best, well-equipped music libraries in the Chicago Public High Schools. This has been greatly due to the work of the Band Parents' Association. The Band Parents, with Mr. R. Squires as president, has helped raise money to repair worn out instruments, buy music, buy new instruments, and to send the band out to the National Contest.

During the Spring Semester the Concert Band presented for the first time in any Chicago Public High School the Senn Amateur Radio Show. It was sponsored by the Band Parents' Association. The show consisted of various popular radio shows acted out before the Senn student body. The affair was presented on two nights and was liked by all that saw it.

During the year the band marched downtown for Americanism Day, Army Day, and played at Soldiers' Field for the semi-final football game between Senn and Fenger.

ORCHESTRA

Senn Orchestra under the leadership of Mr. Gomberg has encouraged a group of enthusiastic boys and girls to reach a high standard in music. Their work is very important to them and they strive hard to perfect their share in the orchestra.

Fifty students were enrolled in the orchestra, playing flutes, violins, trumpets, or drums. A fine example was set by Robert Fahsbender, who won an S rating in the Annual High School Music Solo Competition.

The orchestra was heard at various school events, assemblies, and the Operetta, Chimes of Normandy. They performed for the Industrial Arts Convention on March 26 and received an enthusiastic reception. They played for the Band and Orchestra Parents' Association at the Green Briar Field House and their parents certainly were proud of them. On April 14 and May 12 the group had return engagements at this Field House. It took a leading part in the Music Contest in May and the Spring Festival in June. This Festival was a gala event featuring all the musical organizations at Senn. The orchestra's share in the program was instrumental in making it a great success.

Mr. Gomberg, who came to Senn during the Spring semester, is highly qualified for his position as director. He won a scholarship at the Juillard School of Music in New York City, where he studied violin under Conrad Held and Professor Leopold Auer.

The new instructor has a large program planned, new instruments are to be bought, and instrumental classes started. In the short time he has been here Mr. Gomberg has the full coöperation of the student body, and is to be complimented on the fine work he is doing with the orchestra.

A CAPPELLA

Senn A Cappella Choir, the Senior Mixed Chorus, with a membership of 80 voices brought entertainment to the student body throughout the year under the direction of Miss Byrne. Musical ability abounded in this organization which was led by President Richard Ortner, Vice-President Marge Kallenberg, Secretary Mildred Joy Isacson, and Treasurer Erma Thompson.

Love of music was the spur which led the A Cappella to success in their undertakings. The members worked together with an enthusiastic, coöperative attitude which, combined with their musical ability, insured excellent results.

Were you fortunate enough to be present in Senn Hall November 5 or 7? The memorable occasion, drawing crowds to Senn Hall at this time, was the comic operetta, Chimes of Normandy. The beautiful music, touches of comedy, and surprise ending made the operetta exceedingly interesting. The A Cappella worked many hours in perfecting the operetta and the results of their rehearsals was distinctively an entertaining production.

Beautiful strains of Christmas music arose from Senn Hall December 19 at the Christmas assemblies. A patriotic note, combined with the holiday spirit and the lovely Yule decorations, created an unusually beautiful atmosphere. The A Cappella helped to create this atmosphere by singing God Bless America, Cantique de Noel, and Silent Night, Holy Night.

The crowning point in the year's activities for the music department was the Spring Festival, presented in the early part of June. The A Cappella contribution to this gala event was enjoyed by everyone attending the performance.

Behind the A Cappella is a traditionally fine record which only hard work and intensive interest can sustain. This group has kept up the record and accomplished many things in the past year. A vote of thanks goes to the A Cappella under the expert direction of Miss Byrne for the many entertaining performances they have presented for Senn students and teachers.

BOYS' CHORUS

Senn Boys' Chorus, a very active Senn musical group, was organized in the fall of 1939. At present it has a membership of sixty enthusiastic boys who really do take their music seriously.

For each semester the boys are asked to pay their dues of twenty-five cents. Outside of this small sum they contributed towards robes for each member and already have sixty dollars in this collection.

For the past three years Mrs. Millar, their sponsor, has opened her home to the boys for a wonderful Christmas party. Thus far she reports that they have acted in a gentlemanly manner and no damage has been done. Last year the boys consumed one hundred thirty-eight sandwiches. The boys all agreed that they had a really fine time.

Two gala concerts were given outside of school last year, one at the Stone School and the other at the Ravenswood Y.M.C.A. These concerts are an aid in increasing the boys' appreciation of music.

Another thing which this group can proudly boast of is a very large and well known repertoire. Among these numbers are: Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones, an Old German melody arranged by R. W. Gibb; On the Road to Mandalay by Oley Speaks, Arks of Freedom, Glorious Dwelling by Haydn, Palmer Clark's The Sea Gypsy, Hoodah Day by Noble Cain, Angels of Mercy by Irving Berlin, Sig Romberg's Riff Song, and The Two Grenadiers by Schumann. Four of the songs mentioned above are part songs.

Two very pretty girls, the only two in the chorus, were often seen working very hard. One was Audrey Smith, who occupied her time as secretary, and the other Maxine Ribstein, the accompanist, who helped put over the songs that were so beautifully sung.

GIRLS' CHORUS

Senn Girls' Chorus, consisting of more than fifty selected soprano and alto voices, has increased its membership owing to the more popular choice of the seventh period for daily rehearsals under the very capable direction of Miss Cameron.

At the request of the Senn P.T.A. the chorus presented a musical for them on April 8. The girls' musical selections were accepted enthusiastically. Among the many Assembly Programs in which these musically inclined girls took part was the Christmas Assembly, which was held for all Senn students and teachers. The girls' selections included Angels We Have Heard on High, Ding Dong! Merrily on High, The Years at the Spring, and Caesar Franck's Oh Lord Most Holy. All of these beautiful songs are French carols.

Topping off a year of many achievements the chorus took part in big events of the year for Senn's musical department, the Spring Festival which was held early in June. Peggy De Ball was featured with the chorus, providing a flute obligato to the chorus number, Sing, Smile, Slumber by Gounod. This Festival was a gala event, combining the efforts of all the musical organizations at Senn and these strenuous workers. The chorus worked hard to perfect its offering and contributed a very entertaining portion of the program.

A new management committee helps to inspire the girls to continue their good work. Anastasia Touliatos, the president, is one of the girls working hard on the committee which consists of Lorraine Quinn, Dorothy Knight, Charlotte Jensen, Beverly Raney, and Ruth Loeser. Another important factor in the success of the chorus is Harriet Ragins, who is the accompanist, a position that she has held capably for the past two semesters.

Unity was the theme selected for this year's program. Students and teachers participated in each monthly program, showing the fine unity of spirt existing at Senn. Student aid has long been the first thought of the association, but the exceptional student has also been recognized by gold footballs for the football team, medals to the R.O.T.C., and awards to outstanding senior students.

One of the outstanding speakers of the year was Mrs. H. M. Mulberry, Legislation Chairman of Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers, who delivered an address, "The Keynote of Democracy," at a meeting at Senn on April 8. Mrs. Mulberry stressed citizenship as membership in the natien.

Membership of the Senn P.T.A. totaled 815, the largest for any North Side High School. The library chairman of this group reported that 600 to 700 books were turned in for our armed forces in the Victory Book Campaign. This organization sanctioned a movement to spend $50 for a radio and phonograph to be presented to the Senn English Department. This year's project fund was raised by giving Friendship parties. Among their many other activities the members also aided in the task of sugar registration at Senn.

Students and groups at Senn owe many thanks to this fine organization of hardworking parents and teachers and to their exceptional president, Mrs. Carlson.

SENN HOSTESS CLUB

President ..... Shirley Kiest
Vice-Presidents ..... Olive Hensel, Jane Wilkinson
Publicity ..... Marian Archibald
Social ..... June Mack, Shirley Rudd
Adviser ..... Miss Cavanagh

Senn Hostess Club is a service organization made up of two girls from each of the Senior division rooms. Among the activities that the group sponsors is a Tag Day every semester for the benefit of the Senn Student Service, and the organization of several talent assemblies that give students of all four years an opportunity to show their artistic ability. Two girls are on duty daily each period in room 119 for the purpose of escorting visitors to the different parts of the building and to any special events that may be taking place, such as the Technical Exhibit, College Day and Careers Day. The size of the building makes this extremely helpful. The club makes a practice of taking tours to points of interest throughout the city. Particularly enjoyable were trips to Northwestern University, University of Chicago, International House and the Goodman Theater. These trips were so interesting to the girls that they will be repeated.

One of the highlights of the spring semester was a dance, The Hostess Hop, proceeds of which were divided between the Red Cross Ambulance Fund and the Senn Student Service.

Other duties that the girls carry out are work in 119, errands, answering inquiries where things are placed and where students can find their teachers. One of the great services that the Hostesses performed was to help entertain the Vocational Day visitors. The girls of the club and Miss Cavanagh have a great influence on the entire feminine student body.

France Quand Meme, France Forever, typifies the indomitable spirit of the French loving students at Senn and proves their loyalty and unwavering belief that France will live forever as a nation regardless of its present circumstances.

This club is under the able supervision of Miss Sloan whose main delight is seeing the French language retained by the students. She feels that this year has been a very successful one. Its success is due to the excellent attendance in spite of the fact that meetings are held before school.

During the meetings, which are conducted entirely in French, dramatizations and charades are given; to increase the members' knowledge of the geography of France movies are shown.

Group singing of French Folk Songs is the main delight of the members and the voices of Bonnie Olson and Doris Burkholder glorify the French Classics. The club was proud to announce the acquisition of a piano this semester to accompany them in their singing.

This club has developed into a fascinating event for those students who are interested in French. The members hope to make it, as the semesters go by, one of the leading organizations at Senn.

CHEMISTRY CLUB

William Church	President	George Ehrlich
Ann Gerber	Vice-President	Barbara Wyatt
Betty Berger	Secretary	Harriet Fixler
Jim Scheck	Treasurer	Benjamin Ross
Miss Pardee	Adviser	Dr. Davidson

This group of students has enough genuine interest in chemistry to stay eighth and ninth periods every other week in order to enlarge their vision in the field of chemistry and to study some interesting points not included in the regular classes. The double time allows the members to conduct many interesting experiments, individual or demonstrated to the group.

There was a wide choice of activities and each member chose one that particularly appealed to him. Some made a survey of elements vital to the war effort. Others gave interesting talks on various processes of industrial chemistry.

Many movies were shown to the club. There were several illustrating the history of chemistry, portraying important discoveries and famous experiments. Some explained chemical laws and described them graphically, showing little ions running back and forth. Others were demonstrations of experiments too difficult or too dangerous for high school students to perform.

The most fascinating projects for many students were the experiments that every member was entitled to conduct. Each one could satisfy his curiosity about any subject. But on the whole the advisers, Miss Pardee and Dr. Davidson, guided the club work in the most interesting and instructive channels. The only subject barred was explosives. After all the other members still have a lot of things they want to learn.

The club made a trip to the Chicago Sewage Disposal Plant, where the Sanitary System of the city was explained. The members saw the practical application of the systems of water purification and sewage disposal.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Helen Holm.....President.....Helen Holm
Elsie Harbison.....Vice-President.....Lorraine Bauer
Shirley Schram.....Secretary.....Doris Hauser
Ruth Chindblom.....Treasurer.....Ruth Chindblom
Miss Gage.....Adviser.....Miss Gage

The aim of the Home Economics Club is to bring together the girls that are interested in the activities and the duties of the home and those that might like careers in the Home Economics field. This includes Dietetics, Interior Decorating, and any other profession or vocation that pertains to the subject.

During the fall semester, the members decided to aid the British War Relief; they did this by knitting enough squares to make an afghan and they continued this project through the year.

On the special day that was designated for trips, the members of the club went to Hull House and also to the Edgewater Beach Hotel, where they were taken through some of the apartments, ballrooms, and the kitchens. The club has been fortunate in getting several very interesting speakers, one of whom was Miss Blomberg who came from the Vera Jane School of Modeling and Beauty Culture. She instructed the members as to the right way of getting up and sitting down. Miss Gage said that it was she who inspired the members to form a group for advising the girls on personal charm attributes; this may develop as an off shoot of the Home Economics Club.

A very delightful Christmas Party was planned by the Club Program Committee, Elsie Harbison and Dorothy Storba. It was held in the Teachers' Lunchroom. The members played games and later in the afternoon refreshments were served. The party was enjoyed by every member attending. As mentioned previously the club is under the able sponsorship of Miss Gage.

GREEK CLUB

President ..... Barbara Rudolph
Vice-President ..... Dolores Happ
Secretary ..... Sonya Minsky
Treasurer ..... John Kuntz
Adviser ..... Mrs. Reed

The Greek Club is composed of Latin students and those of Greek parentage who, through study of the language, life and literature of the ancient Greeks, hope to further their cultural and educational background.

The past year has seen two chapters of this organization. This arose from the fact that some students who had been in the club longer than others were more advance. Therefore it was decided to form two divisions whereby the progress of each member would be natural; that is, he would not have to proceed too rapidly in order to catch up with the advanced members, or be retarded in any manner. The Alpha Chapter, which is the advanced group, meets at eight o'clock on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, and the Beta Chapter meets during late sixth period on Friday.

Energetic Mrs. Reed, the club adviser, endeavors to teach her loyal followers the complex Greek language. They are already acquainted with the present, imperfect, future, first aorist and second aorist verb tenses; this is supplemented with knowledge of the first and second noun declensions. Sounds complicated, doesn't it? But these young scholars plow through it with determination and eagerness. In addition, reports on the various phases of the lives of ancient Greeks are given voluntarily by members of the club.

In this manner interested students are given an opportunity to acquaint themselves with the people whose great influence is felt even today.

PITMAN CLUB

President ..... Florence Pitt
Vice-President ..... Jane Staley
Secretary ..... Ruth Olson
Treasurer ..... Marjorie Hathaway
Adviser ..... Mrs. Lawler

For a really enjoyable time a person likes to be with people who are interested in the same subject. So it is that the girls who have joined the Pitman Club, the future generation of secretaries and stenographers, and who really enjoy their study of Commercial subjects gather in Room 334 every Wednesday at eight o'clock to participate in typing and shorthand contests and to discuss future problems; also to learn more about shorthand and typing itself and to engage in many other activities.

Only seniors are allowed in the club because pupils who are beginning the commercial studies are not well enough acquainted with the rules and form of the Pitman System to enter into the various projects.

Most club members want pins to signify that they belong to such a fine group and every year arrangements are made so that all the members who wish may buy them.

Each year the club manages to get together livewires who join the club for their interest in shorthand and typing. They seem to enjoy every activity of the club, every phase and every study.

When the Pitman Club organized, it not only provided recreation for a fine group of girls, but it helped to prepare them for greater success in the future.

So, Juniors, brush up on your shorthand and typing lessons every night and maybe next year you will be the lucky ones to join Mrs. Lawler's Pitman Club.

ART GUILD

Robert Hagenhofer	President	Charles Schridde
Charles Schridde	Vice-President	James Neebe
John Mendheim	Secretary	Phyllis Henry
Phyllis Henry	Treasurer	Betty Miller
Mrs. Dooley	Adviser	Mrs. Dooley

The Art Guild, a talented group of art enthusiasts, seems to have a genuine desire for work and study so long as it is concerned with art. Their aim is to make themselves better artists. To further this ambition they have organized sketching tours, lasting the greater part of the day, which take them to the peaceful countryside or to the center of the swarming metropolis. They visited various art studios and watched professionals at work, heard lectures and viewed art exhibits.

During the regular meetings they sketched from models and experimented on several surfaces with many different mediums. This practice must be effective for several Art Guild members won awards in the nationwide art contest sponsored by the Weekly Scholastic magazine.

Besides improving their own artistic ability the Art Guild makes many contributions to the school. They make posters to boost charity drives and to advertise school activities, such as plays and dances. These posters contribute a great deal to the success of the project and incidentally brighten up these hallowed halls.

The high point of the year for the aspiring artists was the Art Guild Tea. This was a grand opportunity for the potential Leonardo da Vincis and Raphaels to exhibit their work to the art teachers, parents, and friends who attended the tea. On this occasion prizes were awarded for the best paintings. This year Donald Katz won first prize, a box of tempera paints, and Charles Schridde won second prize, a box of water colors.

X CLUB

Melvin Waskin.....President.....Melvin Waskin
.....Vice-President.....Shirley Wenzelberg
.....Secretary.....Bernard Kite
Claude Brenner.....Treasurer.....Dick Koenigsberg
Miss Christman.....Adviser.....Miss Christman

So one and one makes two? Prove it! Why can't it be three or five? That is a sample of what goes on during meetings of the X Club. This group of students was brought together by a genuine interest in mathematics. In fact each student must have a note from a teacher, vouching for his interest in the subject, in order to join the club. A member does not have to be an Einstein, but it helps.

During the fall semester the students made a study of the history of modern mathematics. This completed the study of the entire history of the subject from beginning to end. The project resulted in a dozen dioramas.

The dioramas on display in room 221 portray outstanding events and important discoveries pertaining to mathematics. Some show the building of the pyramids, both Egyptian and Mayan, the construction of the Roman roads, and examples of Indian architecture. Among the important mathematical discoveries mentioned are the Copernician system and Newton's laws of gravity and motion.

The project for the spring semester was the study of the slide rule and of navigation instruments. The members felt that it was especially fitting for them to learn to use these navigation instruments for perhaps they may put such knowledge to use in the defense program. Every week a member gives a report on some famous mathematician, whose footsteps some of these students may some day follow. Also there were several guest speakers, teachers from other schools.

SPANISH CLUB

Betty Mahannah.....President.....Helen Bargfeld
Carol Hermansen.....Vice-President.....
Ruth Samson.....Secretary.....Mary Nelson
Helen Bargfeld.....Treasurer.....Alberta Skolnik
Miss Le Pera.....Adviser.....Miss Gill

One of the most active and popular clubs in the school is the Spanish Club, as its large membership shows. In fact, Miss Gill became the co-sponsor in order to help Miss Le Pera to direct the many affairs of the club this semester. The principal aim of the club is to further the students' knowledge of Spanish and to keep up their interest in the language.

During the first semester the club held an assembly, as has been the custom in the past. Participating in the assembly were several talented dancers who did the Rhumba and the Conga. Other members sang old Spanish folk songs and a playlet was presented.

The meetings this year have been entertaining as well as educational. Members had the pleasure of having such speakers as Miss Cain, who spoke on Guatemala, and Mrs. Twomey who told about Texas. Especially enjoyable were the musical meetings at which they sang all types of songs of Latin American and Spanish origin.

The Christmas party proved to be a huge success. The students entertained their guests, the teachers of the Spanish Department, by singing Spanish Christmas Carols. Even the refreshments carried out the Spanish motif, consisting of Mexican cocoa-cookies and Piñata candy.

Pan-American Day on April 14 had a special significance for the members of this club, for they were gaining through their study of South America a greater respect for its culture of Spanish origin.

CAREERS CLUB

Vivian Johnson.....President.....Robert Burkland
Shirley Shram.....Vice-President.....Richard Tober
Arlaine Wolfe.....Secretary.....Dolores Handleman
Marjorie Bodeen.....Treasurer.....Burton Kadison
Miss Lesem.....Adviser.....Mrs. Kaar

The principal aim of the Careers Club is to aid the high school pupil who is in doubt as to what vocation he or she should choose. Tours of interest, lectures, conferences, and private talks all help to enlighten the student. Miss Lesem founded the Careers Club three semesters ago, but this semester Mrs. Kaar is the guiding light.

The climax of the fall semester was Careers Day. On this day there were speakers representing almost every profession or vocation that one can imagine. Every senior had the opportunity of meeting the representative of the vocation which he planned to make his life work. In these meetings, the nature of the work, the preparation necessary, the advantages and the disadvantages of the vocation were discussed. In this manner the club helps fellow students find the field for which they are most suited.

During the spring semester significant tours were carried out. The first tour was conducted in the Chicago Tribune and the second tour through Marshall Field's.

During the semester Angey Chambas and Angeline George had a talk with Mr. Metsger of the Bureau of Occupational Research with whom they arranged for talks to be given by professional men on the subjects of Medicine, Journalism, and Law. These lectures proved to be very interesting and afforded a great deal of information to all the students who were present.

The Junior Red Cross Club, sponsored by Mrs. Nasatir and Miss Cain, is an extremely active organization. The girls meet three days a week to knit and to plan the various ways in which they can help the Red Cross.

Besides their own activities the club members have aroused interest in their work in many of the other clubs and classes. During the fall semester the students of the art classes painted holiday menu covers to send to our boys in the Navy. The girls of the Home Economics Department sewed clothing for the refugee children. The Industrial Arts Laboratory boys made over two hundred games, which were sent to hospitals and camps all over the country.

The big campaign in 1942, undertaken in conjunction with the International Relations Club, was a drive to raise money to purchase and completely outfit an ambulance to serve in the present war. The money was raised by division room collections, a one-act play, Prom Night, presented by the Senn Players, and a Tag Day. The boys in the Mechanical Drawing Department designed a huge cross upon which were drawn squares for each division room. When the room completed its quota of ten dollars a piece of red paper was pasted over the square. Eventually the entire cross was red. The motto above the cross read "Make This Cross Red." Mr. Wantuck's classes deserve the credit for constructing this cross and it was presented to the students in a very effective tableau. Senn students during the last war also equipped an ambulance which served valiantly in France to alleviate human suffering.

Through all these enterprises the members of the Red Cross Club have installed into the hearts of the entire student body the motto of their organization, "I Serve."

CONSERVATORY CLUB

Roberta Odell.....President.....Jacqueline Melchior
Claude Brenner.....Vice-President.....Pearl Tubias
Barbara Werner.....Secretary.....Natalie Greenwald
Bernard Baum.....Treasurer.....Priscilla Griswald
Miss Tyler.....Adviser.....Miss Tyler

Conservatory Club is for those students who are especially interested in the study of biology. The laboratory and conservatory facilities are open to these students so that they can further their knowledge of botany and zoology.

Those especially interested in botany, informally known as The Greenhouse Gang, plant and care for all the plants in the Senn conservatory. At the beginning of the year they rolled up their sleeves and carried out all the old soil from the conservatory, whitewashed all the flats, and brought in new soil. With the expert assistance of Mr. Hewitt of Lincoln Park Conservatory, they added many interesting tropical plants, such as the Ficus pandurata, rubber plant to you, the Dracaena, and the Diffenbachia, commonly known as the Dumb Cane. It is said that chewing this plant causes one to lose the voice. The Shamrock Sale, held on Saint Patrick's Day, and the Spring Marigold Sale financed this project.

For those interested in the zoological aspect there are many interesting projects. The members raise their own rats in order to conduct nutrition experiments. This year they studied the importance and effect of vitamin B_1. Some mounted insects and leaves to make interesting and instructive displays and kept up a bird calendar, while others carried out other experiments.

In step with the trends in these war times, the Conservatory Club has started a Victory Garden.

CRITICS CLIQUE

Lolajean Kabrine.....President.....Tom Baylie
Hubert Rance.....Secretary.....Jeanne Mercer
William Messner.....Coördinating President.....
Clinton Olmstead.....Coördinating Treasurer.....
Miss Peterson.....Adviser.....Miss Peterson

A group of students who have a flair for creative writing make up the Critics Clique, which was organized with Miss Peterson as adviser this semester. They plan to improve their writing through intelligent and constructive writing and keen criticism.

Only pupils with an E average in English are entitled to join. Those without that average, who are especially interested and anxious to write, may do so if they have a recommendation from an English teacher. The members can choose any type of writing that appeals to them, short story, essay, poetry, or ordinary composition. Papers are read in the class and in the club meeting, discussed and then re-written. Every member must hand in a paper at least once every three weeks. Thus the member improves his writing ability.

A committee selects the best plays in town and then the whole club goes to see them. Among the plays that the members enjoyed was Maurice Evans' production of Macbeth.

As inspiration and understanding are such necessary factors in the guidance of such a club, the members extend their inexpressible gratitude to the English teacher and the adviser, Miss Peterson, without whose untiring efforts and sincere interest this organization could not have been founded.

Having just been born this semester the members cannot speak, as yet, of the accomplishments of the club, but with spirit and an intense desire to succeed they are confident that they will come through with flying colors.

TRUST OFFICERS

Secretary ..... Jackie Olson
Adviser ..... Mrs. Twomey

The sixty boys and girls who comprised the Student Trust Officers took complete care of all the lockers and padlocks which are so necessary to the student body. They rented the locks to the students and checked them regularly. It was to them that the students came whenever they had trouble with their locks. The Trust Officers issued the locker passes that enabled a student to open his locker during a class period.

Another great service that the Trust Officers rendered to their fellow students was helping to count the money involved in school affairs. The accurate management of school money is difficult and the officers did very well.

The Trust Officers also helped prepare the semester list of students who are members of the Senn Honor Society. Through these various activities the Trust Officers contributed service to the schcol.

Miss Hafemann.....Adviser.....Miss Hafemann

The I R Club was organized to give its members an opportunity to analyze and discuss international affairs. This year the membership of the club was so large that it was necessary to divide the club into two sections, one meeting on Monday, the other on Thursday.

With so many active members the club was able to accomplish a great deal. Several members participated in a panel discussion which was broadcast over W.B.B.M. After extensive preparation the club sent fourteen members to the Student Conference on the Far East held at the University of Chicago and sponsored by the Institute of Pacific Relations.

In a joint meeting the club viewed some interesting movies on Guatemala shown by Miss Cain. Later in the semester the members visited Hull House and Chinatown.

Many members entered the contest sponsored by the League of Nations. In order to aid these students in their preparation the club conducted panel and open forum discussions on the subject of International Coöperation.
